

Study at Wesley House Cambridge

The Methodist community of study and prayer at the heart of Cambridge for students and scholars in the Wesleyan tradition from all the world.

Find out about the opportunities we have for formal and informal study, including sabbatical breaks.

Research Degrees

www.wesley.cam.ac.uk/courses

- ◆ PhD, University of Cambridge – A three-year full-time research degree supervised in the Faculty of Divinity of the University of Cambridge (also available part-time to UK students).
- ◆ PhD, Anglia Ruskin University – A three-year full-time research degree supervised by staff of Wesley House or the Cambridge Theological Federation (also available part-time).
- ◆ Professional Doctorate in Practical Theology (DProf) – Awarded by Anglia Ruskin University – a research degree for those engaged in a practice context (e.g. church ministry or mission; chaplaincy; NGO; theological education). The aim of the degree is to make an impact on the practice context through the research undertaken. Its strength is its engagement in genuinely contextual theology and, where appropriate, interdisciplinary work.
- ◆ Doctor of Ministry (DMin) – awarded by Wesley Theological Seminary, Washington – Suitable for those who have completed an MDiv or equivalent and wish to develop as church leaders in an international cohort of students. Independent study plus two fortnights in Cambridge per year for two years. Taught by internationally acclaimed scholars.

“This year of study has transformed not only how I see things, but the way I practice them back home. And that is a truly valuable experience.”

Nils Konstantinovs, Latvian DProf Student

Other Degree Programmes

www.wesley.cam.ac.uk/courses

- ◆ MPhil in Theology and Religious Studies – A prestigious University of Cambridge degree with a strong emphasis on research. Free-standing or a spring-board to the PhD programme (full time only).
- ◆ MA, Postgraduate Diploma and Postgraduate Certificate in Theology, Mission and Ministry taught by members of the Cambridge Theological Federation and awarded by Durham University (available full time or part time).
- ◆ BA, Graduate Diploma and Graduate Certificate in Theology, Mission and Ministry taught by members of the Cambridge Theological Federation and awarded by Durham University (available full time, part time or by distance learning).
- ◆ Bachelor of Theology for Ministry (BTh) – The University of Cambridge’s vocational undergraduate degree for Christian ministry combining theological and practical study (Full time). This degree is equivalent to a MDiv qualification.
- ◆ Diploma in Theology for Ministry (DTM) – A nine month diploma (October-June) awarded by the Faculty of Divinity of the University of Cambridge. Suitable for those with a good degree in another subject who wish to study theology for ministry. This is an ideal course for those engaged in MDiv studies who wish to do a year abroad. It includes practice-based courses with qualified supervisors as well as classroom-based learning within a world-class theology department.

Independent Study

www.wesley.cam.ac.uk/sabbaticals

We welcome visiting scholars, ministers and lay people on sabbatical breaks from a few days to several months – or more.

Our academic staff are able to provide support with bespoke sabbatical programmes and supervision; there is also opportunity for reflection on ongoing ministry and vocational development. Academic projects are supervised by Wesley House staff or by other Federation faculty members so scholars have the benefit of conversation with those whose interests are close to their own. We can arrange access to the libraries of the University of Cambridge, Wesley House and the Cambridge Theological Federation.

Contact us to arrange your time of private study or just to use Wesley House as your base in the beautiful historic centre of Cambridge. We welcome you to join the resident community for worship and fellowship in term time.

“ Wesley House - with its beautiful, newly-refurbished facilities, ideal centre city location in the heart of Cambridge, and warm, hospitable staff – has been an ideal setting for my sabbatical break. I enthusiastically recommend Wesley House as a home base for a clergy renewal program or sabbatical break.”

Tim Mitchell, US Sabbatical visitor

Wesley House: Gateway to Cambridge

Helping Christians communicate their faith in a complex and fast changing world by:

- ◆ Engaging with cutting edge thinking across disciplines in a University environment
- ◆ Experiencing ecumenism through the nine institutions of the Cambridge Theological Federation
- ◆ Creating online conversations

"Every student or pastor needs an experience like Wesley House. Between the world class faculty of Cambridge, my global immersion in Palestine, and the close-knit community that is rooted in prayer, I could not have imagined a better supplement to my theological education."

Ben Adams, US MDiv Student
