

Diploma and Certificate courses in Pastoral Supervision

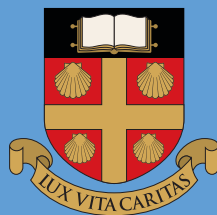

Intensive, practical week-long courses in Cambridge from leading practitioners to develop your skills in using supervision for supporting those amongst whom you minister.

These intensive courses cover both the theory and practice of supervision. They are theologically rich, psychologically informed and contextually sensitive.

Both courses have a strong emphasis on experiential learning and across the five immersive days participants will be given time and space to explore the theory of supervision, practice supervision skills and reflect on the learning.

Certificate in Pastoral Supervision

Booking open for courses on 13-17 July 2020 and 12-16 July 2021

Initial training for those who have oversight of colleagues, team members or peers. Some may have already attended a basic skills course, but this is not a requirement. The aim of the course is to offer an experience of learning where participants can explore the theory and practice of supervision and begin to develop awareness of what supervision is (and is not!) and build confidence to practice within their ministry context.

This course fulfils part of the training requirement towards accreditation with the Association for Pastoral Supervision and Education as an Accredited Pastoral Supervisor.
