

Call for Papers

Methodist Studies Seminar

Hosted by Wesley House, Cambridge
Saturday, 21 May 2022

Wesley House, Cambridge, will host the Methodist Studies Seminar on Saturday, 21 May 2022, with the theme, 'Methodist Theology in a World Parish'. We welcome proposals for 25-minute papers on any aspects of this broad theme, but also welcome proposals on topics of general interest in Methodist studies. Proposals consisting of a title and short abstract should be submitted to Dr Paul W Chilcote at the email below.

This bi-annual seminar, co-sponsored by seven Methodist-related institutions of higher learning in Britain, also marks the tenth anniversary of this collaborative effort. The seminars provide an opportunity for established and emerging scholars of Methodist Studies to present the findings of their research. We conceive of Methodist Studies broadly and aim to provide opportunities for students of history, theology, literature, art, material culture and other fields related to Methodism.

Whilst we hope to offer a hybrid event, at this time, the presentation of papers will all be delivered online so we welcome the submission of papers from all global settings. The seminar also occurs during the Centenary Year of Wesley House, so the seminar will have a celebratory as well as a scholarly ambiance, both in person and online. Given the fact that the date of the event corresponds with the 'conversion' of Charles Wesley, the event will close with a hymn-sing celebrating the global nature of his lyrical theology, with Wesley and other texts sung to different tunes from around the world.

Deadline for submission of proposals: 25 March 2022

Submit proposals to, or seek further information from, Dr Paul W Chilcote, Director,

Centre for Global Wesleyan Theology

at pc679@cam.ac.uk

For more information about Wesley House, Cambridge, click here.